Courses starting the week beginning January 12th 2009 at Gelli Aur Church Hall

A twelve week course for improvers (2hrs a week) is planned based on a module written by myself for Trinity College. The module is called- Painting and drawing landscapes from photographs and copies are available from me at the church hall or at The CornerHouse Gallery in Ammanford.

The main medium will be watercolour but other media can be used including acrylics, oils and pastels. Pencil and charcoal will be used for drawing.

This will be an accredited course and I shall be asking all those who have not received 120 credits to register through me with the college. The fee for the course is the same for everyone -£70. I shall forward £55 to the college on behalf of those who have registered.

I am planning to run classes on Mondays 10.00-12.00 and 1.30-3.30 and on Thursdays 10.00-12.00 and 1.30-3.30. First refusal for a place will be given to returning painters but there may be places for new people. Please contact me asap if you are interested.

Please note that this course is suited to people who have had some previous tuition in watercolour techniques. Please fill in and return the form below if you are interested.
